"THE CROWNER'S 'QUEST"

On the Body of George Hill-Mamilton Committed to Jail.

Committed to Jail.

The graphic account of yesterday morning murder in The References created much exclusion in the neighborhood of the tracedy. The police kept a careful watch for the murderer, and about 6 o'clock yesterday morning he was arrested by Sergesin Safeli, of the second precinct. The coroner was notified and impenciled a jury at the sixth precent to hold the inquest. Hamilion was brought there, and appeared to be strangely indifferent to the proceedings. He is a small, thick-set, dark-complexioned young man, with a savage look about she eyes. His rejustion for being a dangerous character is well established and he has before now been in the toils of the law. He claims that the shooting was done in self-defense. Mary Tuti testified to going to church with Hill, and to Hill saying that Hamilton had said sensething about him. Saw Hill and Hamilton meet, heard the quareling, and noticed the latter

He then fired, Hill falling immediately, Jennie Thornton, living on the opposite side of the street, corroborsied the last witness's testimony. Louis Keese saw a man come from Fourth street; he was halted, and then a shot was fired. The man who fired ran away. E. J. Scherer heard the controversy between the two men; Hamilton apparently sid not care to fight and backed off the sidewalk followed by Hill. Hill laid down his hat with something in it; shortly afterward picked it up and showed a pistol. The parties then somarated. Heard the firing after he got to bed. Dr. J. F. Hartigan testified to the shot being the cause of deat! The jury after being out a short time brought in a veryfiet that Ill! came to his death from a pistol ball fired by Charles Hamilton. Hamilton was then committed to jail by the coroner.

"We notice articles in several of the State papers upholding as right the hanging of Jack Turner, in Hetler. The Choclaw Lowier is particularly bold in upholding the proceedings. We are not only willing, it says, to undergo an investigation, but demand one, to be properly understood by the world. We do not sak to be believed on bare assertions, because we intend to prive the exhibition of the conspiracy beyond parsioned by the world. We do not sak to be believed on bare assertions, because we intend to prive the exhibition of the conspiracy beyond parsion of the conspiracy beyond parsion of the constitution of the most extreme moderation. Now, it is seems to us that the people of Choctaw had better quit talking about investigations. Suppose they had one, what would it show? It would show that a man had been hing without being allowed a trial by a jury of his countrymen, or to introduce a witness to testify in his behalf, or to be heard by himself or councel—without the color even of judicial proceedings. Such an execution, no matter how aggravating the erime, is, in the eyes of the law, nursier. But further, it would show that Jack Turner was hanged for a conspiracy. It as conspiracy, in this State, punishable with death? That is exactly what he was guilty of, if guilty of anything. The people who did this thing have gone even further than those who, taking the riminal code, hard as it is, treats with far more moderation. Every man who had a hand in this hanging, it seems to us, is liable to be indicted by the grand jury for murder, and seconding to their own statement, is technically guilty. We have good and wholesome lows, and our chizens should maintain them. If such proceedings as these are to be countersneed and upiced, the right of personal security is gone. How much better would it have been for them to have acted as did the people of Shelby County in regard to the redshifted negro who was making

North Carolina Independents Repetal, a right to feel hopeint with the situation in the southern Congressional districts. Secretary Henderson received yesterday the following letter from a trustworthy gentleman at Raieigh, N. C.:

This is, beyond doubt, the most heated camraign that ever occurred in North Carolina. The Liberal movement has taken the Democracy by surprise. Rundreds of their best men have descreed and become active workers against hom. The masses nave caught the fever, and are as enthusiastic as the more active workers, and our hopes and; expectations point to the election of Dockory by at least 20,000 majority. We look with certainty to a Liberal Republican majority in the lower house of our general assembly; and we have no doubt that after this election the Democrats will not make a formidable fight in future campaigns. Our prominent stump speakers are Dockery, Canady, le ch, Price, Youig—with many equally powerful but of local reputation. The fourbous are not inscrive. They have marsbaled all their "big dogs" and none growis a luggely as the so-called Governor Jarvis; but his influence has fallen into the yellow leaf and tells against his party. Bennett, Vance, and company are stupendous frauds and humbugs, and make no impression outside of their own ranks. Indeed, when I tell you that they all show the white feather I speak a fact well authenticated by all who come into contact with them. You may tell your friends that North Carolina will shake off the Bourbon yoke next November, and in the next Presidential election will be found among the States to be counted as sure for the Republican candidate. Our people are jubilant and happy. The mountain boys are excited at the prespect of Republican success and are working with their might. The East will bring out its entire strength, and when aroused as they now are, are indeed a power.
